

MRS. HARGRAVE PASSED AWAY SAT. MORNING

AS CLOSING OF LONG LIFE;
HAD BEEN ILL FOR LAST SIX MONTHS

ED AT DAUGHTER'S HOME
Services Will Probably Be Conducted at Winslow; Friends May Call at Home of Mrs. Seales

Death came to Mrs. Mary Hargrave at her home on west Walnut street road, near this city, at 3 o'clock Saturday morning, after almost six months of illness which kept her confined to her bed nearly all of that time.

It was the closing of a long life, little more than 88 years, her birthday having been March 18, 1851. During all of that prolonged sickness, she had been tenderly cared for by her daughter, Mrs. Anna Seales, and her two sons visited her whenever possible.

Mrs. Hargrave was born in Pike county, her father, W. H. DeBruin, a former member of the Indiana State Legislature, prior to the Civil war, was descended from a French progenitor family, which sent representatives to America late in the 18th century or early in the 18th.

The marriage of this daughter, Mary DeBruin, to F. A. Hargrave, a farmer of Pike county, occurred in 1874 at the Pike county home of the late Mr. Hargrave was a Union soldier through the Civil war. His death occurred in November, 1899, and soon after Mrs. Hargrave and her three children removed to Greencastle, to facilitate the education of the latter. These three are Mrs. Seales of this community, Dr. Frank Hargrave, professor of economics at Purdue university; and the Rev. Will L. Hargrave, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Monticello.

These three children survive their mother, and there are the following grandchildren: Mrs. Harold Schafer, Lansing, Mich.; John C. and Frank Hargrave, of LaPorte; and Richard K., who is a senior student in Indiana university. Their father is the Rev. Will L. Hargrave.

Mrs. Hargrave, through all of the years she has resided in or immediately near Greencastle, has commanded the sincere respect of all with whom she had contact, because of her industry, her adherence to a social code which was stricter than any such codes are these days, and her unwavering faith in God. Two years ago on March 25, the Daily Banner spoke of her in these words, in part:

"Eighty-six years old last Friday, on Monday of this week she planted some of her garden, and rejoiced because the weather was such as to permit the ground to be worked, and that she was able to do that much work." And during this last, prolonged illness, her family and her garden and her usual home duties were constantly referred to in her wandering conversation.

Arrangements were somewhat indefinite this forenoon, but it is probable that the funeral services for Mrs. Hargrave will be conducted at the Methodist church at Winslow, this state, of which she was a member, and the interment will be at Petersburg, nearby, without public services here. However, friends are invited to call at the home on west Walnut street during Sunday.

Farmers Strike Stride In Work

MUCH GROUND IS NOW READY FOR CORN PLANTING; LAST OF OATS SOWN

Putnam county farmers struck their stride in their spring farm work, these last few days—in between showers, that is—and their acres show the result of their labor. Much ground is now ready for corn planting, and about the last of the oats has been sown, oats planting being behind schedule for this part of the country, because of the wetness of the soil during the time when it usually is planted.

Farmers who plan to plant considerable ground in corn usually become nervous about it, at this time of the year, if they are delayed in their planting. Most of them like to get the last of the seed in the ground the first week in May, or not later than the second week. Corn planted as late as June 1 is not expected to mature unless the fall season comes late. If the frosts come early on corn that was planted late it usually results in the silos being filled but not much put in the corn cribs.

Putnam county farmers are divided concerning sort of seed corn to plant—the open-pollinated or the hybrid. There are good arguments in favor of each, but there is one rule which applies to both sorts—the seed must be good. There has been much so-called seed corn sold here of both kinds, the open-pollinated and the hybrid, which ought never have been called seed stock, and the result has been unfortunate for many planters of the county.

Hybrid corn in Putnam county is said to mature a week or ten days earlier than the open-pollinated, growing under similar circumstances, but as a rule that difference in ripening is not enough materially to affect the situation.

Police Conduct Traffic Survey

INTERESTING AND IMPORTANT
RESULTS WERE OBSERVED
AT INTERSECTIONS

The Greencastle police, headed by Chief Edward Maddox, have been conducting a survey of traffic conditions at some of the busiest street intersections in Greencastle, with some interesting and important results.

One of these busy intersections is that of Washington street and Bloomington street, where state road 43, coming from the south on Bloomington, turns west on Washington. There is a "stop" sign on Washington street east of the corner, and a caution sign on Bloomington. Some 64 of these had but one. At that intersection, during one hour beginning about 10 o'clock Friday night, approximately 200 vehicles passed, and the chief of police says that only eight of all of these 200 were stopped for the intersection. Some 64 of these had put one light, the chief says. There was one without one license plate, and several had brakes so poor that the drivers could scarcely check their machines.

Similar conditions were observed at the intersection of Hanna and College avenue, where there is a "stop" sign on College facing the east. This is a dangerous crossing even when the drivers are cautious.

Occasionally, the police chief said, a driver will run the red light on Washington street, south of the court house square, which is a flagrant breach of the law, punishable with a heavy fine even if there is no accident as a result of it.

David L. Grimes, Putnam county farm agent, is at Purdue University at Lafayette, today, attending the cattle feeders' meeting.

BOYS STATE APPLICATIONS ARE RECEIVED

AMERICAN LEGION IS SPONSORING
AMERICANISM PROJECT TO BE AT FAIR GROUNDS

LOCAL BOYS ARE ELIGIBLE

Several Have Attended Past Sessions and Several are Expected to Go
Again This Year

The Hoosier Boys State one of the greatest Americanism projects in the country today, sponsored by the American Legion, Department of Indiana, together with all other civic and patriotic organizations, will be held at the Indiana State Fair grounds, Indianapolis, June 17th to 24th inclusive.

The Legion nationally will have approximately 15000 boys enrolled in this activity and Indiana will handle about 600. The boys will be 16, 17, and 18 years old, many of them being high school Juniors.

The complete cost of sending a boy is but $12.00 plus his transportation to and from the fairgrounds.

The boys attending the camp this year will receive courses in comparative governments. They will get practical experience of running their own governments of cities, townships, counties, and states. The boys will be divided into Federalist and Nationalist parties. They conduct their own political campaigns, register, vote, elect their own officers, swear them into public office, conduct meetings of city councils, town and county boards and state legislatures.

Public spirited citizens, including the governor, lieutenant governor, judges of our courts and others instruct the boys in the duties of their respective offices. The studies and practical operation of government is interspersed with athletics, forensics, games, sports, and music. Mack Harp, state music chairman, has called upon posts to enroll as many boys who play varied instruments as possible to give instrumentation to the boys band, which is a feature of each Boys State.

The Boys State is non-political and non-military. There are a great many boys in every community who should be in Boys State this year. This is a very worth while project and will help more to raise the standard of our government and civilization than any other thing as it is teaching the youth who are to be our leaders in the future the fundamentals of our democratic government so necessary in the welfare of our country.

Every civic organization and individual interested in sponsoring a boy in Boys State is urged to get in touch with W. S. Donner chairman of this district, or Perry Rush, commander of Post No. 58 The American Legion for full information, and enrollment blanks.

Applications are now starting to come in. No quotas have been set for any Post or District, and therefore the 600 boys whose applications are received first will be the lucky ones. The sooner these applications get in, the better for the boy, as well as the committee.

The first Boys State had enrolled from Greencastle, the following: James Huestis, Randolph Bartlett, and Joe Bamberger, Jr.

The second Boys State had enrolled from Greencastle the following: James Hurst, Donald Jones, Charles Newgent, Geo. Long Jr., Frank Edward Donner and Grover Best. Both years had included as sponsors, the following local organizations: The Elks Club, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, The American Legion, The American Legion Auxiliary and individuals.

DEPAUW'S MUSIC FESTIVAL

String quartet playing at its finest was found in the concert given by the Philharmonic String Quartet of Chicago in Meharry Hall Friday night as the second offering of the DePauw Spring Music Festival. While this type of music is not the most spectacular, it is among the most satisfying. The performance was notable for the perfect blending of instruments which does not spotlight any one player but is achieved only if each is a master of his instrument, and for the accurate start and ending of a composition or section, which is one of the most striking features of good ensemble. Three encores were added to the program at the insistence of the audience.

CITY BAND NOTICE

The Greencastle Band will meet for rehearsal Monday, May 1st, at 7:30 P. M. over Mullin's Drug Store. An invitation is extended to all who play suitable musical instruments.

CITY CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN

The "Clean up, Paint up, Fix up," campaign sponsored by the city beautification committee of the council of clubs is nearing its close. Only one more day remains for you to get your rubbish collected free by the city trucks. If you have not done so, call 595 and give your address, as Monday May 1, is the last day for such collections.

The city schools and civic organizations have co-ordinated their activities to help make Greencastle a more beautiful and ideal place in which to live. Are you doing your part, by making it a more clean place in which to live?

Evidence of the spirit in which the citizens have responded to the movement to improve, clean up and beautify their property has been seen in almost every neighborhood.

Now that "Clean up week" is at a close, let us not stop doing our part in keeping Greencastle a clean and healthful home town. Help our city officials by doing your part.

The city beautification committee urges you to plant vegetable gardens and flower gardens, to plant the state tree, the tulip tree and the state flower, the zinnia.

TWO RUSSIAN FLIERS WAIT FOR RESCUERS

CRASHED MONOPLANE ON PRO-JECTED FLIGHT FROM MOSCOW TO NEW YORK

BELIEVED ONE TO BE INJURED

Plane Had Been In Air Approximately 22 Hours 40 Minutes;
Completed Worst Stages

MISCOU PLAINS, N. B., April 29.—(UP)—Two Russian fliers who crashed their monoplane on Rocky Misco Island after completing 4,000 miles of a projected non-stop flight from Moscow to New York, waited disconsolately beside the wreckage today for rescuers coming by airplanes from Boston.

In a strange country, surrounded by fishermen and farmers whose language they could not understand, neither flier would leave the plane although one, believed to be the pilot, Brig. Gen. Vladimir Kokkinaki, had suffered several broken ribs in the crash.

Farmers from this island town, 10 miles from the scene of the crash, carried them food and set up a stretcher beside the plane on which the injured flier lay throughout the cold night. His companion, Maj. Mikhail Gordienko, navigator and radio operator, slept inside the wrecked cabin.

Both wings of the plane were smashed and one of the two motors was crushed.

The red, low-winged plane, called the "Moscow," had been in the air approximately 22 hours and 40 minutes, had completed the worst stages of the long flight across Scandinavia and the Atlantic, just below the Arctic circle, and was streaking down the home stretch ahead of a tail wind at a 200-mile an hour clip, when it was forced down. It was only 700 miles short of New York and only 225 miles from the coast of Maine.

One of the first persons to reach the scene was Robert Vibert, who lived on a farm five miles away. To him and others who quickly gathered, the two fliers were as much strangers as if they had landed from Mars. The isolated fisher and farm folk had heard only scant mention of the flight by radio and could not ascertain which was the injured flier, except that he was the "bigger man," presumably Kokkinaki, or what had brought them down.

Villagers tried to take the injured man to town but he would not move from the plane. Vibert hurried home, prepared milk, biscuits, sandwiches and coffee, and took them back.

PERFORMANCE OF ORATORIO SUNDAY NIGHT

BERGETHON WILL CONDUCT
CHORUS AND ORCHESTRA IN
"JUDAS MACCABAEUS"

NO ADMISSION CHARGE

Performance to be Given in Bowman
Gymnasium Beginning
At 7:30

A large attendance is expected for the performance of Handel's oratorio "Judas Maccabaeus" which is to be given tomorrow night at 7:30 in Bowman gymnasium.

A massed chorus of 250 singers, representing several out of town choirs and DePauw music organization, and the DePauw symphony orchestra will present this famous masterpiece under the baton of Professor Bjornar Bergethon. Dr. Van Denman Thompson will assist at the Hammond organ which has been installed especially for this occasion.

The soloists for the oratorio will be Carmen Siewert, soprano, Edna Tyne Bowles, contralto, Farrell Scott, tenor, and Edward Jarvis, baritone. All of the soloists except Mr. Scott are well known in this community. Mr. Scott is tenor soloist at the Meridian Methodist church in Indianapolis and is well known throughout the state for his oratorio appearances.

Although not so well known as the "Messiah," Handel's dramatic oratorio is considered one of the greatest works of its kind. The oratorio relates events concerning the great Jewish leader and hero Judas Maccabaeus, and it was the support of the Jewish people at first that gave the work early success.

It was presented first at the Covent Garden Theatre in London April 1, 1747. In the remaining twelve years of his life, Handel conducted performances of the work no less than thirty-eight times, which is a record for a work of this kind.

The public is cordially invited to this performance and there will be no admission charge. Doors will be open at 7:00.

Father And Son Meeting Slated

MEN'S CLUB OF METHODIST CHURCH PLANS AFFAIR FOR MAY 3

A special "Father and Son Meeting" is planned by the Methodist church men's club, to be held in the community hall of the Methodist church May 3, at 6:30 p. m., with Don Lash, America's greatest distance runner, as guest speaker. Don's ability as an athlete and record breaker, together with his new work as state policeman, will appeal to all boys and young men of this community.

Rev. McClure and the new officers of the club—Ernest Collins, president; D. W. Killinger, vice president; and James R. Pence, secretary-treasurer, have made extensive plans for an expected crowd of 200 men and boys, to climax a successful year of fellowship meetings.

Twenty-four years old, Don works out regularly for the chance to compete in the 1940 Olympics and to win the 5,000 or 10,000 meter runs, (about 3 and 6 miles), which the Finns have won in past years so often as to monopolize the distance races and records. Years of running have given Lash endurance enough for any grind. Each afternoon he takes an hour off from police work to get in his training.

His new work as state policeman and his ambition to become a traffic expert takes up most of his time. He works at his job as hard as he does at any training for distance record.

LAST DAY FOR PAYING OF SPRING TAX INSTALLMENT

Many taxpayers visited the office of County Treasurer Roland Lane, in the court house, today, and took away with them receipts for the taxes due on their property in Putnam county, but a considerable number have not yet paid. Monday is the last day of the period for such payments without a penalty being added to the amount of taxes due.

Floyd J. Hemmer, superintendent of the 5,800 acre Indiana state penal farm at Putnamville, will be the featured speaker at an open meeting sponsored by Ceres, agricultural honorary, on Tuesday night, May 2, at 7:30 o'clock in Agricultural Hall.

Hemmer, who was graduated from Purdue in 1922, is a former state senator, and is a well known speaker on agricultural subjects. In his address here, in addition to taking up the problems encountered in the management of Indiana's largest farm, he will discuss a number of his experiences in dealing with penal laborers.

Musical entertainment will complete the program.

Dirks Addresses Deans Association

MISS SALZER WAS CHAIRMAN OF HOSTESS COMMITTEE OF
ANNUAL MEETING

"What a dean is in the eyes of the students is more important than what he does or the records he keeps," said DePauw University's Dean of Men Louis H. Dirks to the Indiana Association of Deans and Advisors of Women and Girls Saturday. He was speaking in Lucy Rowland Hall at the luncheon meeting included in the program for the day, with the subject, "Some Mutual Problems."

Miss Helen C. Salzer, dean of women at DePauw, was chairman of the hostess committee of the annual meeting held this year in Greencastle. "Citizenship vs. Leadership" was the theme of the sessions, over which Mrs. Alice Bidwell Wessenberg, dean of women at Butler University, presided. Mrs. Kate Hevner Mueller, dean of women at Indiana University reported on the meeting of the National Association of Deans of Women at the general business meeting this morning.

Dean Dirks, in his speech, called the student's confidence in the dean the most important factor in bridging the gap between them. "This personal element will prevent the substitution of the cold personnel office for the dean's office in American colleges and high schools," he assured his audience.

In the supervision of boy-girl relationships, deans should at some time encourage the shy individual to meet people of the opposite sex; they should guide, not ridicule students through adolescence, said Dean Dirks. "The dean has a special responsibility towards emotionally unstable students," he continued, "as well as responsibility to clear up the usual individual difficulties."

This afternoon the association held group discussion meetings under the leadership of Miss Helen B. Schlemmer, director of residence halls at Purdue university, Miss Grace DeVaney, Dean of Girls, Garfield High School in Terre Haute, and Miss Mildred Crabb, counselor at Dennis Junior High School in Richmond.

MAY OFFER GUARANTEE TO GERMANY

BRITISH LEADERS SEIZED UPON
TWO POINTS IN HITLER'S SPEECH

MUSSOLINI CALLS AIR FORCE

Believe Roosevelt May Reply to Hitler's Speech; Accept Remarks
As Challenge

LONDON, April 28.—(UP)—Great Britain may offer Germany a non-aggression guarantee as an answer to Adolf Hitler's Reichstag speech, it was reported today.

British leaders, discussing the next stage in diplomatic activities, seized upon two points in Hitler's speech—first that Britain now felt she would always have to take her stand against Germany, secondly the offer to guarantee non-aggression as regards any of 31 nations named in the President's appeal.

There were strong reports that, seeking some lead for constructive peace action, the British government might reply to Hitler by citing his offer and, as a concrete demonstration that Britain was not hostile to Germany, propose actual negotiations on it.

This would mean that President Roosevelt's peace offer might bear fruit after all, with Britain taking the first step to respond to Hitler's invitation to the 31 nations the President mentioned.

But whatever the government might decide to do as regards negotiations with Germany, it was apparent that it intended to proceed both with conscription plans and with formation of a big European "peace front" against any aggressor state.

ROME, April 29.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini called additional air force reservists into service today as the cabinet met to consider a joint Italian-Germany retort to British conscription plans.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., April 29.—(UP)—President Roosevelt may reply to Adolf Hitler's speech to the Reichstag, it was believed here today.

Although the chief executive was understood to have felt that Hitler had violated diplomatic usage in that he had neglected to reply formally to his message asking peace guarantees, the significance of Hitler's remarks was accepted generally as a challenge to democracies to restate their position.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH FORUM HOLDS "LADIES NIGHT"

The Men's Forum of the First Christian Church "Ladies Night" was well attended Thursday night. After a splendid dinner served by the host committee, a program of entertainment was presented, featured by readings and acrostic solos by Miss Dorothy Kline, church organist.

The address of the evening was delivered by Dr. Hildebrand of the Philosophy Department of DePauw university, who spoke on the subject, "Is Life Worth Living Today?" A keen analysis of currents of life in Germany prior to the rise of Hitler brought the question "Do such currents exist in America today?" A heard program for answering the queries of youth on the two subjects "Is there any promise of security for me today?" and "Is there a purpose in life today?" was presented. Members of the Forum expressed the opinion that the message was one of the most thought-provoking and helpful that has been delivered before the group.

Henry Flanigan, of Russellville, is a brother of Miss Martha Flanigan, 71 years old, who died suddenly at her home in Los Angeles, Calif., Wednesday afternoon. She was born on a farm northeast of Crawfordsville May 5, 1867, the daughter of Alfred and Julia Hobbs Flanigan. Three sisters and three other brothers survive. Funeral services will be in Los Angeles.

Some interesting stories are being told around here of the size of mushrooms that have been found, the last day or two, and all of the Putnam county stories are quite creditable, but down at Spencer in Sweet Owen, just to the south of us, there is an artist in the realm of mushroom story-telling who is a genius. A few days ago he—or is it she—printed a story in a Spencer paper in which it was said: "There is no much room for trees," because of the heavy growth of the mushrooms, and now a special to an Indianapolis newspaper from Sweet Owen soberly states trees have been uprooted by the energetic growth of the mushrooms, making it easy to find the fungus plants by the trees lying prostrate where the plants sprang up.

Spring Termed 'Fix-Up' Season

LIST OF REPAIRS, ALTERATIONS, IMPROVEMENT SERVES AS GUIDE

Spring brings its annual "fix-up" season to the home owner. In recognition of the necessity for a reference guide to the points in a home needing special attention now, Federal Housing Administration officials have prepared a list.

The list, while not all-inclusive, gives a handy guide for home owners and others for checking their individual homes and property holdings with the object of definitely ascertaining just what is needed to prepare for Spring and Summer.

Complete Low-Cost Home

All of the essentials of comfortable living are embodied in this home which was valued at $4,000 by the Federal Housing Administration and built with the aid of a $3,500 insured mortgage. The small front loggia is an attractive architectural feature and provides a break in what otherwise might be a monotonous design. Two bedrooms and a bath are on the rear of the house, with the bath accessible to all rooms through use of a small hallway.

HINTS FOR HOME OWNERS

Cedar Closets

A properly constructed cedar closet affords adequate protection against one of Summer's unwelcome guests—the moth, according to Federal Housing Administration officials.

Winter blankets, furs, clothing, and other articles subject to the ravages of this pest may be safely stored in cedar closets.

The entire surface of the closet, including the inside of the door, should be covered with three-eighths of an inch of aromatic cedar lining. It is preferable to line the floor with thirteen-sixteenths-inch, but three-eighths-inch can be used. The door should be tight fitting and close against felt gaskets. The lining may be placed directly over plaster if care is exercised in nailing it to the studs. Face nailing is suggested, but blind nailing may be used if desired. The corners should be fitted with quarter-round cedar molding. Cedar shelving may also be used with added effect. The more aromatic wood employed, the better the check against moths. A further precaution is to clean any article thoroughly before storing.

Funds with which to make such an installation in the home may be procured from lending institutions qualified by the Federal Housing Administration under its Property Improvement Credit Plan.

Tests For Soundness

Alternate wet and dry conditions tend to render unsound the structural and other wooden members in a building, according to Federal Housing Administration officials.

The ends of joists embedded in a masonry foundation wall may become unsound if the walls of the basement are damp and poorly ventilated.

As a result of a leak in the roof or eaves, similar damage to other parts of the building may occur, such as loosened or deteriorated flashing.

A simple test will help determine whether structural reinforcements are necessary; the wood may be tested by jabbing it with the point of a penknife. If it is soft and spongy or very brittle it is likely repairs are necessary, promptly. Badly deteriorated parts should be replaced and the basement of the building should be kept properly ventilated to prevent further deterioration.

Improvements of this nature may be financed with funds procurable from lending institutions qualified by the Federal Housing Administration under its Property Improvement Credit Plan.

IRON WORK IS USED TO GIVE FRENCH EFFECT

The quaint charm of New Orleans and Mobile homes may be easily recaptured by persons modernizing old houses through the use of cast-iron second-floor verandas and other ornamental iron work.

Attractive designs which authentically reflect the old French influence are now being offered for sale and may be obtained to meet practically any specification. Models are manufactured for use on both large and small homes. Many old homes are architecturally adaptable to the New Orleans design, and, by adding a cast-iron veranda and making other changes, it is often possible to achieve the effect at comparatively little cost.

Funds for installing verandas are obtainable from qualified lending institutions under the Property Improvement Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

Questions - Answers

Q. What causes mold to form in cellars, and what will get rid of it?

A. Mold comes from excessive dampness and lack of proper ventilation. Open the windows night and day during fair weather and keep them closed during warm weather or rainy spells.

Q. What is considered ample closet space?

A. A minimum of one closet for each bedroom should be provided, as well as an entrance coat closet and a closet for cleaning equipment. In addition, there should be linen closets and kitchen-closet storage space.

Q. What can be done about doors that stick?

A. Examine the hinges on the door; possibly the screws are loose. If this is not the case, maybe you can counter-sink the hinges a little deeper in the door and save planing off the edge, which always means repainting. If neither of these remedies suffices, it will be necessary to plane off as small a portion of the door as possible where it sticks.

Q. Will cutting additional windows in an old house weaken the walls?

A. Not necessarily. It will depend greatly upon where the windows are to be placed and what structural members are affected. Care should be exercised to see that no bracing members are cut or, if so that adequate substitute reinforcement is installed. Where studs are removed, bridging must be provided over the opening and additional studs installed at the sides of the opening to carry the load adequately.

ally any specification. Models are manufactured for use on both large and small homes. Many old homes are architecturally adaptable to the New Orleans design, and, by adding a cast-iron veranda and making other changes, it is often possible to achieve the effect at comparatively little cost.

Roof Check Will Reveal Failures

DAMAGED SHINGLES SHOULD BE REPLACED TO AVOID FUTURE EXPENSE

Every home owner should check his roof for failures due to Winter freezing and Spring thawing, particularly if the roof is an old one. Damaged shingles should be replaced, and if necessary the entire roof should be renewed to avoid more costly repairs to ceilings and furniture in the event of a leak.

Most roofs of average pitch can be easily surveyed from the ground. Close-ups can be obtained in some cases with the aid of field glasses or by leaning from a dormer window. Common roof faults to be looked for are missing shingles, split shingles, curled shingles, projecting nails, and faulty flashing.

In addition, a trip to the attic after a heavy rainstorm may reveal wet stains on the underside of the roof. Such stains eventually become damaging leaks. If any failures are discovered, a roofer should be called in to make a thorough inspection.

A number of fire-resistant shingles are available for reroofing and may be applied directly over most shingled roofs. They include asbestos, slate, tile, metal, and asphalt shingles. Funds for reroofing may be obtained from qualified lending institutions under the Property Improvement Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

LELIA HORNE RETURNS
FROM STAY IN FLORIDA

Miss Lelia Horne, upon her arrival here from Florida, where she has been during the latter part of the winter season, found awaiting her here a letter from Miss Eleanor Gwinn, the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gwinn, whose other daughter, Margaret, who presumably recently was drowned off the southern California coast. The tragedy in the Gwinn family has come close to many residents of Greencastle and of the Cloverdale locality. In her letter, Miss Gwinn said no new thing had been brought to light bearing upon the undoubted drowning of Margaret Gwinn and her young man companion, Donald Lampton.

Mrs. Gwinn, writing to Miss Horne, spoke of the "sudden and fierce storm" which swept the California coast at the time the 18-foot sloop, the Narwhal, was being sailed by young Lampton and Miss Gwinn from the Catalina Island to the mainland. It was a trip, Mrs. Gwinn remarked, which had been taken many times by Donald, and is one which in normal circumstances is attended by no more danger than an automobile trip upon the land.

Donald, when he was but 18, had participated in a sailing race from the mainland to Honolulu and back, in which his racing vessel was dismantled by a sudden storm but it was brought to port safely by the young navigator, notwithstanding its seriously crippled condition. Also, Donald spent a year or so with the searchers who hunted through 150 islands of the Hawaiian group looking for the lost Ulu flyers, some time ago. He was counted an experienced and resourceful sailor.

Voncastles
Mickey Rooney has encountered his most embarrassing moment. As opening scenes were filmed in his first picture of 1938, "The Hardys Ride High" coming to the Voncastles Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Mickey was supposed to suffer from callosities for a Detroit cabaret glamour girl. As he called on her in the scene, the script required that he turn in sudden boyish fear and run away.

The siren role is played by Virginia Grey, who was one of the glorified beauties in "The Great Ziegfeld." As Mickey approached her on the set it became immediately evident that his panic was real. He wheeled and dashed off the set, his face flushed beyond any acting effort.

"Imagine it," Mickey exclaimed. "I've been watching that girl around the lot for a year and never got up the nerve to speak to her. Now I'm supposed to walk right up to her,

This is a nutty business if I ever knew one!

Granada
The choice between his mule and his wife presents Bob Burns with a tough problem in his new picture, "I'm From Missouri"—but his Western hard-headedness and good old American luck enable him to keep both, at the fadout! The Paramount comedy, opening Sunday at the Granada Theatre, presents the sage of Van Buren as a mule fancier, family man and Missouri's "ambassador" to England!
The picture tells a hilarious story of what happens when a rough-hewn, plain-spoken Missourian goes abroad to force the British army to buy more mules and takes along a wife who's determined to crash London society. Gladys George, in one of her rare comedy roles, is now teamed with Bob as his socially-ambitious mate.

Chateau
Lovely, titan-haired Merle Oberon has her most important and dramatic role to date in the production of "Wuthering Heights," the great love story which stars her opposite two dapper leading men—Laurence Olivier and David Niven—at the Chateau Theatre for five days beginning on Sunday.

"Wuthering Heights" casts slim and sylph-like Merle as Cathy, hot-tempered, devil-may-care Nineteenth Century lass who runs wild over the moors and crags of Yorkshire. Cathy's beauty and vivacity attract the love of two men—brooding and darksome Heathcliff, and wealthy and socially prominent Edgar L. In her youth Cathy turns to the cliff in spite of his loathsome manners and strange ways—because love is mingled with the mystery of the moors. But Cathy's love is strong enough to stand the bitter disappointment.
